Question: For free listing of our vendors, would you like your name, contact info and products listed on our website and Facebook page? This will also allow your customers to more easily contact you before and after the show.

Check box: Yes No

Please list all animals and products you will be exhibiting or selling in the box below:

Our expo is first and foremost about exotic pet education. There is no better teacher than personal experience. With your help we will be scheduling short talks for the public all day, both days, featuring various vendors and members who will be sharing their own personal experiences and knowledge about their own exotics. You do not need to be an expert to share with others what you have learned and what it is like living with and caring for an exotic pet.

Would you consider presenting one of our critter talks? If so, please check the YES box below and you will be contacted with further information. Thanks in advance for helping us make the Nashville Exotic Pet Expo the best it can be.
